

The Bike Washing Machine

Bike Washing Machine combines a stationary bike and washing machine so you can exercise at the same time as you wash your clothes. But hang on a second, can't we do that already? I often flick on the washing machine and hop on my turbo trainer or head out for a bike ride when the weather plays ball.

The pedalling motion causes the drum of the washing machine to rotate at the same time, the superfluous electricity can then be used to power the display or be saved for its next use.
